AVASTOR UPDATE ON HDD AVAILABILITY DUE TO THAILAND FLOODING

Peachtree City, GA, USA-

October 25, 2011- As you may be aware, Thailand has and continues to experience flooding that damaged the facilities of several hard drive and component manufacturers.

Though all external hard drive vendors will be affected, Avastor is working to maintain "normal" supply levels. What this means is that you should expect to order and receive product similar to your historical average purchases.

There are updated prices as a result of the price increases of hard drives from the manufacturers over the past week. Please consult with your local dealer for updates on prices and availability.

Working together we can minimize these disruptions for loyal Avastor customers.

Regards,

Steve Smith
President
Avastor
